TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1917.

Take this tip from father: Beginning next Saturday morning business can go hang for all the six thousand hunters of Clearfield County care.

Rather a great deal be in the front ranks fighting with honor and glory than in a foreign land branded as a slacker and without friends.

A great moving picture is to be seen at the High School this evening. The price of admission is very cheap indeed considering the value of the picture and the length which is twenty reels requiring two evenings to show.

The Clearfield County Dry Federation promises to be right on the job as usual. President Reitz is authority for the statement that the Federation will hold its annual meeting at Clearfield on December 3rd, for the election of officers and discussion of ways and means of combating the licensing of saloons in Clearfield County.

The young men of Clearfield will miss Lieut. Fred B. Prosser very much. Lieut. Prosser has done a great deal for his country right here in Clearfield by fostering the military spirit among the young men. Almost a hundred of them have received from him a valuable part training which will stand them in good stead when they are called.

The success of the Nickel Alloys Company with their first shipment of finished product has given Clearfield business men a great deal of satisfaction and this new industry which came to us without any blaring of horns or sounding of trumpets promises to mean a great deal to this vicinity. Already their payroll is mounting to substantial figures and the completeness of their plant gives evidence that they are here to stay.

Last night witnessed an occurrence the like of which has not been seen in Clearfield for many years, perhaps never, and everyone sincerely wishes to see the depraved criminals brought to the bar of justice as speedily as possible. There has been more or less insulting of women on our streets for some time but none of the attempts have been so brazen as the one last night. It is indeed fortunate that help was near last evening and that interference made the arrest of the criminals possible.

GERMAN PRESS ADVOCATES CAMPAIGN ON DESTRUCTION

With the French Armies, Nov. 3.—By Mail.—In pursuance of Germany's new policy of settling the question of Alsace and Lorraine by dispersing the population and confiscating their property in order that the two provinces may be colonized by Germans after the war, the German press has just begun a campaign for the destruction of monuments erected in the honor of marshals and generals from Alsace and Lorraine who distinguished themselves in the service of France.

Under the empire and the republic Alsace and Lorraine contributed no less than 70 famous generals and marshals to the French armies. Twenty-seven of these so distinguished themselves that their names are carved on the Arch of Triumph, at Paris, amongst those of the greatest military geniuses of France.

Monuments to many of these were also erected at various times in their native provinces. Various German newspapers that have just reached the hands of the French military authorities now advocate the destruction of these. The "Rhein Westphalische Zeitung," for example says:

"We should no longer hesitate to demolish and melt up the numerous monuments to the plunderer marshals and generals of Alsace and Lorraine. These monuments remind us of the time when the German provinces of Alsace, the Palatinat and the Southern States were sacked and pillaged, the population assassinated and the cities destroyed. Let us throw them all into the melting pot."

FEW DROPS AND CORN LIFTS OUT

Says there is no excuse for cutting corns and inviting lockjaw.

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This simple drug, while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste and fermentation, and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and cleaner, you are told to drink every morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus clearing the alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this hot water and limestone phosphate and quickly see the results.

GOV. BRUMBAUGH PREDICTS A DRY PENNSYLVANIA

In Sermou Sunday He Declared That King Alcohol Was On Retreat And Must Go

STRONG FAITH IN OUR WAR

Pittsburgh, November 25.—Prediction that Pennsylvania in the "near future" will join the list of prohibition states was made by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh in a Thanksgiving address at the Second Presbyterian church here today. Designating a number of things for which the people of Pennsylvania should be thankful, the governor said:

"I thank God that King Alcohol is on the retreat. Isn't it significant that at a time of world-wide test, when a man called upon to do a man's part it is recognized he cannot do it unless King Alcohol is first banished. There are now twenty-eight 'white states' in America and the outlook is better now than it has ever been for Pennsylvania to become one of the 'white states' in the very near future.

"I am thankful," he said, "that when the call to service came Pennsylvania met it mightily. Far more things have been asked of our commonwealth in this crisis than you know about, Pennsylvania at every turn, at every request, at every opportunity, has yielded unstinting co-operation to our government. I thank God for these things."

Citing the world war as proof that "Christ's religion is a religion of action," he declared:

"We are in the world war at this Thanksgiving time. I firmly believe we are fighting the battle of Christ Jesus when fighting America's fight in this war. We are carrying the cross side by side with the Stars and Stripes and we are marching to a worthy victory."

OVERBOARD

Washington, Nov. 27.—Among the idiomatic terms adopted by United States Marines everywhere, the expression "shove off" is used more frequently than any other. In the soldier lingo, if a Marine goes home on furlough, leaves his camp or garrison or goes anywhere, he "shoves off."

A story comes from France of a Marine who had been acting as orderly for a lieutenant. The officer sent him on an errand and when he returned the lieutenant was nowhere about. A poilu, who happened to be lingering in the vicinity, was questioned by the Marine:

"Have you seen the lieutenant?" "Ouf, monsieur, out!" replied the poilu, proud of his newly-acquired Marine lingo. English: "He shoved off."

is the perfect oil for deep frying, sautéing, shortening, salad dressings—and the economical one.

PRESSED from the heart of golden American Corn, Mazola supplies the need for a vegetable oil which is pure and wholesome.

Fry any food in Mazola and you will find it retains more of the natural flavor.

Use Mazola over and over again—it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another—the great factor in economy.

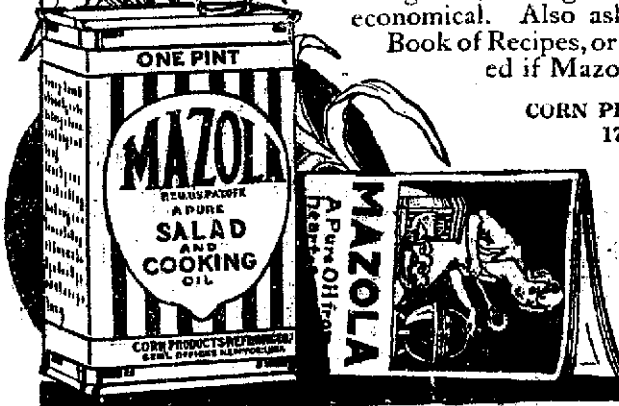

Mazola quickly crisps the surface and thus makes fried foods more digestible—free from greasiness or sogginess.

And since Mazola is a vegetable oil it is an important factor in Mr. Hoover's campaign to save butter, lard and suet.

Imported oils are so scarce and high priced now-a-days that you will do well to use Mazola when you want a really delicious salad dressing.

You can get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon, and gallon tins. The large sizes are most economical. Also ask your grocer for the free Mazola Book of Recipes, or write us direct. Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Change of Fare on Town Jitney

I find that in order to justify me in operating the Town Jitney under present conditions it will be necessary for me to ask just a little more fare from each passenger, and knowing as you do the necessity for such a move am satisfied that you will be willing to share a little of my added expense with me.

Below you will find a schedule of rules and regulations for the governing of the Town Jitney service after December 9, 1917:

Single fares, 7 cents; double fare, 15 cents; three fares, 20 cents; four fares, 30 cents; five fares, 35 cents.

All passengers will be required to make their own change and have ready or ticket ready to drop in slot when entering car.

No penny change will be made by jitney driver, and if patron does not have a nickel and two pennies, will have to drop a dime in the slot. All pieces of money from 25 cents up will be changed for patrons by driver on demand.

I will offer Cut Rate Ticket books, one containing 8 tickets for 50 cents, and one containing 16 tickets for $1.

On entering jitney patron will be required to tear tickets off single before dropping in slot, and when more than one fare is paid with tickets you will be required to name number of fares to driver and show tickets before dropping them.

This advance is absolutely necessary if we would continue our service, and we ask your consideration and co-operation in the change.

DAIRY FACTS

CLEAN UP TO CHECK DISEASE

Diseases of Calves Have Been Lessened at Ohio Station by Disinfecting Dairy Stables.

Disinfecting dairy stables checks contagious and infectious cattle diseases. A thorough clean-up followed by disinfection about twice a year with a coal-tar disinfectant is recommended by the Ohio experiment station. Calf diseases have been lessened in the dairy herd at the experiment station.

Spraying a Dairy Stable.

tion by disinfecting the stables each spring and fall. Digestive troubles, particularly white scours, have not been troublesome and fewer deaths in calves have occurred after this practice was adopted. Less garget in cows has been evident. The same treatment will help to hold in check tuberculosis and contagious abortion in herds where these diseases are prevalent.

Thorough disinfecting is urged to kill all disease germs in every possible turning place. Mangers, stalls and floors need special attention. Coal-tar dips are used at the experiment station. After disinfection the stables are whitewashed.

GENERAL CARE OF UTENSILS

Four Important Rules That Should Be Followed in Washing and Drying Milk Vessels.

General recommendation for the care of utensils are:

1. Rinse in lukewarm water as soon after use as possible.
2. Wash in hot water containing washing powder which will remove grease.
3. Rinse in clean hot water and place in live steam 15 seconds, drain and place right side up until steam evaporates.
4. Invert in a clean protected place when dry.

LOCATE CAUSE OF LAMENESS

Many Make Mistake of Not Making Careful Examination, Simply Applying Some Liniment.

Cows go lame. Instead of making a careful examination to find out the cause, we use a lot of liniment and think we have done all that is required. After much suffering on the part of the innocent animal we find perhaps that the trouble was due to a nail or something else in the foot. It pays to watch for and guard against such accidents to live stock.

UTENSILS NEEDED FOR TEST

Outfit Can Be Procured From Any Creamery Supply House for Comparatively Small Sum.

The utensils needed for the Babcock test are a Babcock tester, a few test bottles, a pipette, an acid measure, some sulphuric acid and a pair of dividers. All this can be procured from any creamery supply house for from $5 to $10, according to whether a four or an eight bottle tester is wanted.

MILKING MACHINE IN FAVOR

Attention Called to Device on Account of Labor Shortage—Farmer Saves Time and Labor.

The labor shortage calls marked attention to the milking machine. It will pay to install one on farm where 20 or more cows are milked daily. You can get as much milk as by hand milking and can save time and labor.

ed in the army some time ago and who expects to soon set sail for the front.

An accident happened at the Good mines the other day which came very near proving fatal. Rex McCracken who has quite a long beard, while working in the mines heard the roof starting to cave and started to rush out when his beard caught on a splinter which was sticking out on a prop and threw him to the ground. His life was only saved by the cave stopping before it reached the place where Rex was lying.

We are glad to know that flour has taken a slight drop. We can get the best flour on the market for $3.50 per sack.

Pigs Is Pigs

When Ellis Parker Butler wrote his book "Pigs Is Pigs" he certainly knew what he was talking about, for today pigs are pigs and there is nothing in this wide, wide world like them. Today if you go into a butcher shop and ask for $1.00 worth of "pig" you hardly get a "smell" for your dollar. The butcher will draw his knife through a piece of pork, wipe the blade on a piece of greased paper wrap it up, and with a sort of one-sided smile hand it to you and receive your one dollar William in return, which to your eyes looks larger than the "smelling paper," and when I make this statement I also know what I am talking about for we had some evidence of it in our own town Saturday.

Four poor, foolish but hungry sons of Italy came to our pig dealer, H. B. Norris and said "We wanta buy pig," and as it is Mr. Norris' business to sell all the pigs he can for as much as he can, he was ready at once to talk business. And would you believe it, before those four deluded pig buyers could get free from the clinging tentacles of trade they had parted with $199.75 in return for three runty little "squealers"! But then was prices have raised everything, so Mr. Norris simply says "pigs is pigs" and puts on the butcher's smile.

MRS. DE SAULLES GOOD
WITNESS FOR HERSELF

the shooting by Mrs. De Saulles said
she didn't remember.

The crowded court room watched
Mrs. De Saulles. Attorney Uterhart
kept his gaze on his client's face while his brow was wrinkled with nervousness. Weeks asked her is she was happy with De Saulles in South Bethlehem. She replied that she cared for him very much. Mrs. De Saulles
said her husband took $29,000 away
from her in 1913. She said he came home late and she was unhappy because he neglected her. Then Weeks produced a letter written by her to De Saulles in June 1914 while she was in London. It was addressed to "Dear, darling Dinky". She asked him not to be jealous as "she had a good head
on her shoulders" and also picked her
made companions carefully. She said
in her letter that De Saulles needn't
be afraid that someone with run away
with her. She mentioned gambling,
dancing and parties at the Ostend
Safino but she said she didn't gamble.
She described the place and told of
"men who lost their heads." "You were happy then weren't you?" Weeks
asked. She said she couldn't remember but when pressed for an answer
she wasn't but wanted everyone to think she was happy. All her letters flattered De Saulles and begged him
to return to her.

"I thought he was wonderful and
though I could win him back by flattery," Mrs. De Saulles said.

PRESBYTERIAN MUSICAL

The musical service at the Presby-

the church choir was another delightful treat for the large audience who attended. The program was especially well arranged and was highly deserving of praise as each number
was rendered in a most admirable
manner.

The trio "Sweet is the Work" by
Mrs. Reeve, Mr. James and Mr. Van
Osten was exceptionally fine and delightful all. The listeners were very enthusiastic in their praise of the beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. Taylor. The piano and organ duet
"Benedictus" by Miss Wrigley, pianist
and Miss Smith organist, was also excellently rendered. Handel's "Largo" sung by the male quartet was exceptionally fine.

GREEN RIVAL TO DARK BLUE

Jade Clothes and Jewelry Also Popular—Black in Demand for Afternoon and Evening Wear.

Midnight blue holds its own.
Black is in demand by those who want to dress well in the afternoon
and evening, but it does not hold a high place for street suits or frocks.

Dark green is a serious rival to dark blue, and the French dressmakers who exploited it last year are now reaping
a reward because the public is accepting it. A woman must know herself
well, however, before touching any tone of green. If she is picturesque,
she can wear it in any one of the shades that are variously known as jade, Egyptian and lettuce.

The woman who can wear jade
clothes and jewelry has a successful season before her, for many of the best materials are woven in this alluring but difficult tone, and the oriental shops are filled with bits of fine jade
made into earrings, hair combs and necklaces. There are fans of peacock feathers with jade sticks and also buckles of this Chinese quartz for slippers. Soft gold tissue gowns are embroided with jade beads, in the Byzantine fashion.

Red flickers through the color
scheme and bursts upon the vision like
the flame from the artillery at the front. It is against the accepted psychology that the colors of war should be exploited while war is on.

Mrs. Raymond Williams left this evening for Camp Lee, Petersburg,
Va., to spend Thanksgiving with her husband who left for Camp Lee with Clearfield's second contingent.

FROCKS FOR GIRLS

No Difficulty So Long as Fabrics
Hold Out.

Scotch Plaid Worsted, in Blue, Black
and Yellow May Be Combined
With Black Velvet.

Clothing the small girl is a simple matter these days, so long as Scotch plaid silks and worsteds and plain
color fabrics to be used in combination therewith hold out.

The little frock shown in the sketch
is made of Scotch plaid worsted, in blue, black and yellow, combined with black velvet. As will be noted, the skirt is a full kilted affair, and the bodice and sleeves are of velvet, enriched by plaid collar and cuffs.
The frock fastens in the center back
with small jet or velvet-covered buttons. The collar is open at the back,
of course.

This is one frock which is rather

Knitted Frock of Scotch Plaid.

smarter without the overlay collar of
white washable fabric.

To make this dress for a little girl of
six or eight years, one yard of velvet or velveteen 36 inches wide and one and a half yards of plaid fabric the same
width will be required.

The dress might be developed in Scotch plaid gingham and plain-color
chambray of linen, if desired.

One little frock recently noted, designed for a little girl of eight or ten years, was made of black velvet and cut on straight princess lines, side buttoned and trimmed with embroidery
done in bright red and green silk.

Velvet in black and dark shades is being used extensively in the development of suits, coats and frocks for
young girls this season.

When black velvet frocks are worn
they must be extremely simple. Frequently a bright color touch is given by the use of wool embroidery, and the white collar and cuffs are often used.
Sometimes satin is employed, and
again neck and sleeves are finished
with bands of filet lace.

LES MISERABLES AT HIGH SCHOOL THIS EVENING

Famous Play Of Victor Hugo
Will Be Portrayed By Means Of Pathoscope Machine

TWO NIGHTS TO SHOW ALL

The great masterpiece of Victor Hugo, Les Miserables, will be given by moving pictures in the High School Auditorium this evening and tomorrow evening at popular prices. The price of admission for both evenings is only forty cents. It requires twenty reels to portray this immortal play and this necessitates the two evenings to show it.

This entertainment is for more than moving picture lovers. The story is one of deep human interest and one which is acknowledged to be a builder of morals and the intellect. Below we give a synopsis of the first and second episodes which will be shown tonight. The profits accruing from the exhibition will be used to purchase a moving picture machine for the High school. Many High schools are using such machines now as an aid to instructing by showing pictures of educational subjects.

SYNOPSIS

Episode I.

Jean Valjean, unable to find employment, is driven to theft in order to provide for his invalid sister. During his term of imprisonment his phenomenal strength attracts the attention of the warden Javert, who it fated to play the role of Nemesis in Valjean's life. Escaping from the prison with the aid of a small flexible saw, he eludes his pursuers and eventually is cared for by the good Bishop Myriel. Jean repays this hospitality by robbing his host of his silver. Captured by gendarmes he is brought before the Bishop, who tells the police that he had given the silver to Jean. Touched by this mark of confidence Jean repents bitterly of his wrongdoing, and armed with a letter of introduction from the good priest secures employment in a factory owned by the priest's brother.

Episode II.

Upon the death of his employer the factory is bequeathed to Jean, who has taken the name of Madeleine and becomes mayor of the town. Working in his factory is a young girl named Fantine, who has been deserted by her lover. Unable to explain her recent absence from work she is discharged. Meanwhile, Javert, the prison guard, has been promoted to the post of police inspector for Montreuil (the town of which M. Madeleine is mayor). In reporting for duty he is struck by the resemblance of the mayor to Jean Valjean, and makes a mental note of it. Fantine, suffering from poverty has been obliged to sell her beautiful hair, and thus becomes an object of derision among her associates. During a street quarrel she is arrested by Javert. M. Madeleine, after learning her sad story, orders her release, and overcome with pity, sends her to a hospital.

In spite of the risk of discovery, M. Madeleine employs his great strength in the rescue of an old man, and Javert denounces him to the perfect. Learning that a man is to stand trial who is supposed to be Jean Valjean, M. Madeleine gives himself up to justice, after having promised Fantine to care for her child when he comes out of prison.

HYDROPHOBIA VICTIM IS HURRIED; FATHER SEEKING TREATMENT

Mad Dog is Cause of Death of Emerickville Boy in Pittsburgh
Hospital

Reynoldsville, Nov. 26.—Charles Shaffer, aged 9, the Emmerickville boy who was bitten by a mad dog several weeks ago and had been receiving treatment for rabies in the Pastoral Institute at Pittsburgh for several days, died on Saturday as a result of the wound, and the remains were brought here yesterday for burial. Michael Shaffer, his father, who had also been taking the treatment, hurried back to the institution to complete his treatment.

The boy was bitten several weeks ago in the face, the fangs of the brute sinking into his cheek so deeply as to loosen a tooth. The case is the first death known to have resulted from hydrophobia this season in this section.

NO DECLARATION OF WAR ON AUSTRIA

President Favors Letting Right
Bower of Germany Alone With Hope of Arranging Peace

REPUBLICANS MAY PROTEST

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 27.—President Wilson will not ask for a declaration of war against Austria or at least not at the off-set of Congress it was authoritatively learned by the United Press today. The sinking of the American steamship Schuykill may change the out look however. "Watchful waiting" will be the President's attitude despite the wishes of many of the Congressional leaders for immediate action. Until an actual clash between the American and Austrian forces the administration will leave the diplomatic situation as it is. A German and Austrian defeat on the Italian plains may cause Austria to seek an advantageous peace. The United States is refraining from declaring war on Germany's most powerful ally for the express purpose of being able to aid such a movement if it is considered best for the allied cause. But the policy is likely to change before Congress convenes December 3.

It is said that the Republicans will be able to criticize the President's policy in of declaring war on Austria and still will not be disloyal to the government. As Congress can declare war without the President's consent it is possible if the declaration is given proper support war may be declared by Congress sometime during its ten months' session.

CAMP LEE BOYS WILL BE GIVEN FURLONGS

A dispatch from Camp Lee says: Camp Lee, Va., Nov. 26.—Uncle Sam's Christmas gift to the men of the Eightieth division will be a furlough. This is the announcement made by General Adelbert Cronkite, the commandant, with the result that the men are jubilant.

While it was announced some days ago that there would be a liberal allowance of furloughs and an opportunity given to the boys in camp, there was no intimation of how many soldiers would be permitted to go. As this will be the last holiday season the soldiers here will spend at their homes until the close of the war, it was decided by the commandant to allow every man in camp to go home and spend at least a few days with their mothers, sisters, sweethearts and friends.

As it would be impossible to move all the troops at one time, there being over 35,000 men in camp at the present, the furloughs will be divided, some being home for Thanksgiving day, some at Christmas and others at New Years. While it would be desirable to permit all of the men to go home for Christmas, nevertheless this is impossible, as the war department will not allow more than one-third of the men to be absent from camp at one time.

We can be well satisfied with the result of Saturday's game when we think that we at least gave them a square deal.

SHERIFF LANDS SLICK CANADIAN WAR DODGER

Tries To Burrow Himself Into
The Hills of Clearfield County
To Evade Duty To Country

LODGED IN THE COUNTY JAIL

Sheriff Ira C. McCloskey arrested a double-dyed slacker Saturday in the person of one James Frank Leslie, a gentleman of Socialistic tendencies, who not only evaded the United States draft but is alleged also to have skipped out of Canada to escape his duty to his country in its hour of need. James Frank, is a native Canadian, we are informed, beat it out of Canada when men were needed and as he is but 25 years of age and possessed no bona fide registration card, he had to beat it about from pillar to post to escape the authorities. Some time ago things got so hot for him that he slipped into Peale and buried himself among political friends in the wilds of Cooper township.

The authorities were hot on his trail and from the fact that he was a regular "Jim, the Penman" and conducted a voluminous correspondence with kindred spirits in this country and Canada, vowing to let "George do it" while they talked about it, led to his undoing. He was not wise in his selection of a place to burrow and when two or three letters a day began to arrive at the village postoffice for a man unknown in the community somebody got inquisitive and when the proper time arrived Sheriff McCloskey assisted by a state policeman or two hauled in their net and landed the Canadian shrimp.

He was brought to jail Saturday and will be turned over to the Federal authorities for disposition.

James Frank is said to be a real Bolshevik pig, too, and unless we fail in our diagnosis of the case or are wrongly informed he is going to have an opportunity to give his undivided time to that pastime while consuming what the other fellow produces.

A. A. Adece Celebrates Birthday In Office

Nationally Known Government Employee Reaches Age of 75

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—Alvey A. Adece, second assistant secretary of state and one of the most valued of Uncle Sam's civil servants, is 75 years old today and President Wilson, Secretary Lansing all of the bureau chiefs of the state department and many members of the foreign diplomatic corps told him by word or message how glad they are that the dean of deans is still with them in the foreign service of the United States.

Secretary Adece celebrated the day by coming to his office at the same hour as he has been accustomed to for more than thirty years. He found on his desk quantities of flowers, sent in to remind him of the day by friends in the city. During the day he received messages of greeting from many corners of the world.

Secretary Adece is recognized at the department of state as an authority on international law and procedure. He is the most expert draughtsman of state papers in the government service, but besides acquiring a fund of knowledge and a proficiency in his profession as an officer of state to an extent far beyond the capacity of the average man, he has developed a versatility of accomplishments, and interests. He is recognized among Shakespearean students as one of the best authorities in America, and his knowledge of the great persons of literature and literary history seemingly is unlimited.

MRS. DE SAULLES GOOD WITNESS FOR HERSELF

Lawyers Unable To Shake Her Plea That Her Apparent Happiness Was Merely A Sham

LIFE WITH HUSBAND UNHAPPY

By Hugh Bailey
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Minneapolis, Nov. 27.—"I can dance with a broken heart and I can smile with a broken heart," was the answer Mrs. Bianca De Saulles returned to District Attorney Weeks today when he tried to prove that the beautiful Chilean woman spent her husband's money, had a good time, and then shot him after a quarrel. Fashionably dressed women wept while Mrs. De Saulles answered in her cross examination.

"I don't wonder that the jurymen are tired," said Mrs. De Saulles as a jurymen yawned.

"Do I bore you?" Weeks asked. "Oh! no," she replied, with an aristocratic arch of her eye brows, "I realize that you have to do it."

District Attorney Weeks today sought by searching cross examination to break down Mrs. Bianca De Saulles' story on the death of her divorced husband whose murder she is now on trial. Weeks began his cross examination of Mrs. De Saulles in a gentle voice.

"Your mind was a blank from the time you shot your husband in 'The Box' until you awoke in jail," he asked.

"Yes, as I remember," she replied. "You remember all the details of your married life even going back some years."

"I think so," she replied. When Weeks asked her if she had any mental disorder before she went to jail, she replied "I do not remember." Weeks insisted that she fix the exact time her memory returned after.

NEGLECTED WIFE EXEMPTION IS WITHDRAWN

William Shonewald Can Best Serve His Country In Army
Opinion of Safety Committee

IS RESIDENT OF CLEARFIELD

The state and local authorities are determined that every man shall do his bit these war times, especially if he be of draft age.

William Shonewald a local young man, whom it seems "would toil not and neither would he spin," has just awakened to that fact as the following letter from Secretary John Bain of the Clearfield County Committee of Public Safety will show:

Nov. 23, 1917.

Local Board No. 2,

DuBois, Penna.

Gentlemen:

In Re: William D. Shonewald. On last Friday the writer was in your office and left a memorandum relative to this man. We wish to make the following recommendation to your Board.

First let me say that the Public Safety Committee has been given the duty during the present emergency to institute such action as will result to the advantage of the nation. This case has been taken up with the State Committee, who advised this action.

William D. Shonewald is a coal miner, 22 years of age. He has, living, divorced wife and a four year old child, which his mother cares for. He has been married again to a woman who had a child prior to marriage and no his. This couple live together comparatively little and in fact he has never set up a home of his own. When he found that the draft would catch him, he rented a furnished flat in Clearfield where he and his wife and the child are still living. Following the receipt of his discharge he again neglected the wife and child, drank heavily, and is reported to have physically abused his wife, also working at very irregular intervals. This information came to the writer from a number of sources and finally from the wife, herself. She stated that the landlord was threatening eviction and that they had no money and nothing to eat. The writer sent for this man and found that for three weeks prior, he had not reported for work, but had been on a spree, and that he had no money. His last pay, which he had received three weeks before was between 65 and 70 dollars for two weeks. We told him that in view of the country's need, that he would be required to either go to work or go to jail. He was given an opportunity to work the next day. He did not do so, and during the afternoon said that the exemption could be withdrawn as far as he cared, but that his wife would get nothing at all from him, if he was taken into the Army.

Desertion Officer Stock is familiar with this case, Judge Bell has some knowledge of it and Mr. Peter Gearhart knows the people. Captain Woodward of this Committee is also familiar with the character and habits of this man.

In consultation with them, we find that we are unanimous in the opinion that the wife and child will be better off with the $40.00 a month which will be given to them, than the man himself will be benefited and possibly redeemed by the service and that the country will derive more benefit from him as soldier than they would as a laborer.

In view of the foregoing facts and circumstances we would respectfully submit for your consideration, the suggestion of the revocation of this discharge and his induction into the service. May we be advised of your determination in the matter?

Very truly yours,

The Progress has experienced no end of trouble recently in getting the papers delivered to the homes of Clearfield. Many people hesitate to call us about not receiving their papers. We want to know when you do not receive your paper and will be glad to have our subscribers keep us advised.

The students of the High School do not seem to know that C. H. S. has a store for those who attend. A collection will be taken to help support a native worker in the foreign field.

All come out and help.

McGuire and Harvey were taken to jail by Constable Reilly and will face Judge Bell at next week's criminal court.

Some three or four weeks ago McGuire and a companion were bumming around town and McGuire shouldered a woman off the sidewalk at Dooley's corner and then went down Third street climbed over the barrier at the Rosser Furniture store and walked across the cement sidewalk before the cement had set.

The men were held on two charges, $1,000 bail being demanded for aggravated assault and battery on Mr. Brion and $500 on the other charge.

The gave their residence as Stoneboro, Pa. They were called to leave on a Lake Shore freight at 12:30 a. m. and judging from their condition when arrested would have been in fine condition to railroad if they hadn't got into trouble.

DRUNKEN THUGS INSULT WOMEN ON STREET

Two Young Men Giving Their Address As Stoneboro Held
In $1500 Bail For Court

ARE LAKE SHORE BRAKEMAN

W. L. McGuire aged 23 and H. L. Harvey, 21, brakemen on the Lake Shore, running into Clearfield, loaded up on booze last night and coming up town armed with a quart bottle of high pressure stuff, proceeded to act the "rough neck" until they were landed in the lock up by Policeman Eadie about 10 o'clock and following a hearing before Justice James A. Milligan this morning were sent to jail in default of $1,500 bail, charged with aggravated assault and battery and insulting women.

Last night as the 9:30 o'clock jitney discharged its passengers in front of Lytle's shoe store, Mrs. P. L. Brion, of Third street and her two sisters got out and started down Market street to their home on Third street in the Auto Supply company building. The two toughs mentioned above accosted the ladies on Market street and after being severely rebuffed by Mrs. Brion, followed the women down Market and out Third street. When the alley at Boyd Thorn's plumbing shop was reached Harvey stepped up and taking hold of Mrs. Brion by the arm attempted to drag her into the alley at the same time making insulting proposals. The Misses Ryan ran to the office of the Auto Supply company, a few feet distant and informed Mr. Brion of the affair. By the time he got to the street Mrs. Brion reached the door with McGuire and Harvey in pursuit of her.

When Mr. Brion came out of the door McGuire, who was in the lead struck him a glancing blow on the forehead and when Brion retaliated Harvey grabbed him around the neck and pulled him back. McGuire followed up the attack and Mr. Brion wrenching himself out of Harvey's embrace clinched with the oncoming McGuire and threw him to the sidewalk. While he was engaged in polishing the tough off in a workmanlike manner that was bringing results Harvey ran over and kicked him full in the mouth. The blow loosened several of Mr. Brion's teeth and cut his lips up terribly and he was completely knocked out by the force of the kick.

By this time people attracted to the scene by the screams of the women had taken the toughs in hand and on the arrival of Policeman Eadie turned them over to the officer and he promptly placed them in the lock-up.

The men are real rough-necks who deserve to be made an example of, and at the hearing this morning District Attorney Welch asked that they be held in $1,500 bail for court after telling the men that the authorities intended to see that decent respectable women should not be molested on the streets of Clearfield by such characters.

McGuire and Harvey were taken to jail by Constable Reilly and will face Judge Bell at next week's criminal court.

HAIG REPULSING ALL ATTACKS OF ENEMY

Blizzards Aid Italians In Fore-ing Back The Invaders of Italian Territory

BRITONS REACH ITALIAN LINES

London, Nov. 27.—Repulse of violent counter attacks in the northeast corner of Burion wood was announced by Field Marshal Haig today. The assault came late last night.

It was the first counter thrust by the enemy on the newly won British positions in 24 hours. Nearby, however, in the Bourlon village, the fighting has been almost continuous, the position being one-half German and one-half British, with both sides fighting desperately to maintain their holdings.

A terrible blizzard sweeping over the mountains in the north is aiding the Italians in keeping back the Austrian invaders, and a heavy fall of snow is preventing the enemy from moving their heavy artillery and makes moving their reinforcements practically impossible. The Italians are accustomed to mountainous fighting and are fighting with the fury with which the blizzard is raging across their lines.

The British reinforcements for the Italian lines have now arrived and are ready for the trenches. They are marching to the front eager for fight even though they are foot sore from their long march.

By Henry Wood

With the French Army in Italy, Nov. 27.—French troops were crossing the Alps today going to Italy's aid. Men and guns who will push back the deplores of Venice are arriving in never ending streams through the great gaps through which Napoleon's invincibles marched on Italy, but this time they are coming as the friends of Italy.

Progress Loses Double Header At Bowling

Printers' Rollers Failed To Work
Against High Brows and Schemers

There was a great game played on the Y. M. C. A. allies last night, before supper, the High School winning by 18 pins. The High School won the first two games by a margin of 118 pins, but the Progress came back in the last game, rolling 527 pins to the High School's 427. Nightingale had the high score with 205. Smith saved the High School from losing by his wonderful bowling. He rolled 507 pins or an average of 169.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 27, 1917.

Take this tip from father: Beginning next Saturday morning business can go hang for all the six thousand hunters of Clearfield County care.

Rather a great deal be in the front ranks fighting with honor and glory than in a foreign land branded as a slacker and without friends.

A great moving picture is to be seen at the High School this evening. The price of admission is very cheap indeed considering the value of the picture and the length which is twenty reels requiring two evenings to show.

The Clearfield County Dry Federation promises to be right on the job as usual. President Reitz is authority for the statement that the Federation will hold its annual meeting at Clearfield on December 3rd, for the election of officers and discussion of ways and means of combating the licensing of saloons in Clearfield County.

The young men of Clearfield will miss Lieut. Fred B. Prosser very much. Lieut. Prosser has done a great deal for his country right here in Clearfield by fostering the military spirit among the young men. Almost a hundred of them have received from him a valuable part training which will stand them in good stead when they are called.

The success of the Nickel Alloys Company with their first shipment of finished product has given Clearfield business men a great deal of satisfaction and this new industry which came to us without any blaring of horns or sounding of trumpets promises to mean a great deal to this vicinity. Already their payroll is mounting to substantial figures and the completeness of their plant gives evidence that they are here to stay.

Last night witnessed an occurrence the like of which has not been seen in Clearfield for many years, perhaps never, and everyone sincerely wishes to see the depraved criminals brought to the bar of justice as speedily as possible. There has been more or less insulting of women on our streets for some time but none of the attempts have been so brazen as the one last night. It is indeed fortunate that help was near last evening and that interference made the arrest of the criminals possible.

GERMAN PRESS ADVOCATES CAMPAIGN ON DESTRUCTION

With the French Armies, Nov. 3.—By Mail.—In pursuance of Germany's new policy of settling the question of Alsace and Lorraine by dispersing the population and confiscating their property in order that the two provinces may be colonized by Germans after the war, the German press has just begun a campaign for the destruction of monuments erected in the honor of marshals and generals from Alsace and Lorraine who distinguished themselves in the service of France.

Under the empire and the republic Alsace and Lorraine contributed no less than 70 famous generals and marshals to the French armies. Twenty-seven of these so distinguished themselves that their names are carved on the Arch of Triumph, at Paris, amongst those of the greatest military geniuses of France.

Monuments to many of these were also erected at various times in their native provinces. Various German newspapers that have just reached the hands of the French military authorities now advocate the destruction of these. The "Rhein Westphalische Zeitung," for example says:

"We should no longer hesitate to demolish and melt up the numerous monuments to the plunderer marshals and generals of Alsace and Lorraine. These monuments remind us of the time when the German provinces of Alsace, the Palatinat and the Southern States were sacked and pillaged, the population assassinated and the cities destroyed. Let us throw them all into the melting pot."

FEW DROPS AND CORN LIFTS OUT

Says there is no excuse for cutting corns and inviting lockjaw.

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can harmlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This simple drug, while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste and fermentation, and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and cleaner, you are told to drink every morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus clearing the alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this hot water and limestone phosphate and you will see the results.

GOV. BRUMBAUGH PREDICTS A DRY PENNSYLVANIA

In Sermou Sunday He Declared That King Alcohol Was On Retreat And Must Go

STRONG FAITH IN OUR WAR

Pittsburgh, November 25.—Prediction that Pennsylvania in the "near future" will join the list of prohibition states was made by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh in a Thanksgiving address at the Second Presbyterian church here today. Designating a number of things for which the people of Pennsylvania should be thankful, the governor said:

"I thank God that King Alcohol is on the retreat. Isn't it significant that at a time of world-wide test, when a man called upon to do a man's part it is recognized he cannot do it unless King Alcohol is first banished. There are now twenty-eight 'white states' in America and the outlook is better now than it has ever been for Pennsylvania to become one of the 'white states' in the very near future.

"I am thankful" he said, "that when the call to service came Pennsylvania met it mightily. Far more things have been asked of our commonwealth in this crisis than you know about, Pennsylvania at every turn, at every request, at every opportunity, has yielded unstinting co-operation to our government. I thank God for these things."

Citing the world war as proof that "Christ's religion is a religion of action," he declared:

"We are in the world war at this Thanksgiving time. I firmly believe we are fighting the battle of Christ Jesus when fighting America's fight in this war. We are carrying the cross side by side with the Stars and Stripes and we are marching to a worthy victory."

OVERBOARD

Washington, Nov. 27.—Among the idiomatic terms adopted by United States Marines everywhere, the expression "shove off" is used more frequently than any other. In the soldier lingo, if a Marine goes home on furlough, leaves his camp or garrison or goes anywhere, he "shoves off."

A story comes from France of a Marine who had been acting as orderly for a lieutenant. The officer sent him on an errand and when he returned the lieutenant was nowhere about. A poilu, who happened to be lingering in the vicinity, was questioned by the Marine:

"Have you seen the lieutenant?" "Ouf, monsieur, oui," replied the poilu, proud of his newly-acquired Marine lingo. "Enfin, he has—what you call shoved off."

CLEAN UP TO CHECK DISEASE

Diseases of Calves Have Been Lessened at Ohio Station by Disinfecting Dairy Stables.

Disinfecting dairy stables checks contagious and infectious cattle diseases. A thorough clean-up followed by disinfection about twice a year with a coal-tar disinfectant is recommended by the Ohio experiment station. Calf diseases have been lessened in the dairy herd at the experiment station.

Spraying a Dairy Stable.

tion by disinfecting the stables each spring and fall. Digestive troubles, particularly white scours, have not been troublesome and fewer deaths in calves have occurred after this practice was adopted. Less garget in cows has been evident. The same treatment will help to hold in check tuberculosis and contagious abortion in herds where these diseases are prevalent.

Thorough disinfecting is urged to kill all disease germs in every possible turning place. Mangers, stalls and floors need special attention. Coal-tar dips are used at the experiment station. After disinfection the stables are whitewashed.

GENERAL CARE OF UTENSILS

Four Important Rules That Should Be Followed in Washing and Drying Milk Vessels.

General recommendation for the care of utensils are:

1. Rinse in lukewarm water as soon after use as possible.
2. Wash in hot water containing washing powder which will remove grease.
3. Rinse in clean hot water and place in live steam 15 seconds, drain and place right side up until steam evaporates.
4. Invert in a clean protected place when dry.

LOCATE CAUSE OF LAMENESS

Many Make Mistake of Not Making Careful Examination, Simply Applying Some Liniment.

Cows go lame. Instead of making a careful examination to find out the cause, we use a lot of liniment and think we have done all that is required. After much suffering on the part of the innocent animal we find perhaps that the trouble was due to a nail or something else in the foot. It pays to watch for and guard against such accidents to live stock.

UTENSILS NEEDED FOR TEST

Outfit Can Be Procured From Any Creamery Supply House for Comparatively Small Sum.

The utensils needed for the Babcock test are a Babcock tester, a few test bottles, a pipette, an acid measure, some sulphuric acid and a pair of dividers. All this can be procured from any creamery supply house for from $5 to $10, according to whether a four or an eight bottle tester is wanted.

MILKING MACHINE IN FAVOR

Attention Called to Device on Account of Labor Shortage—Farmer Saves Time and Labor.

The labor shortage calls marked attention to the milking machine. It will pay to install one on farm where 20 or more cows are milked daily. You can get as much milk as by hand milking and can save time and labor.

ed in the army some time ago and who expects to soon set sail for the front.

An accident happened at the Good mines the other day which came very near proving fatal. Rex McCracken who has quite a long beard, while working in the mines heard the roof starting to cave and started to rush out when his beard caught on a splinter which was sticking out on a prop and threw him to the ground. His life was only saved by the cave stopping before it reached the place where Rex was lying.

Pigs Is Pigs

When Ellis Parker Butler wrote his book "Pigs Is Pigs" he certainly knew what he was talking about, for today pigs are pigs and there is nothing in this wide, wide world like them. Today if you go into a butcher shop and ask for $1.00 worth of "pig" you hardly get a "smell" for your dollar. The butcher will draw his knife through a piece of pork, wipe the blade on a piece of greased paper wrap it up, and with a sort of one-sided smile hand it to you and receive your one dollar William in return, which to your eyes looks larger than the "smelling paper," and when I make this statement I also know what I am talking about for we had some evidence of it in our own town Saturday.

Four poor, foolish but hungry sons of Italy came to our pig dealer, H. B. Norris and said "We wanta buy pig," and as it is Mr. Norris' business to sell all the pigs he can for as much as he can, he was ready at once to talk business. And would you believe it, before those four deluded pig buyers could get free from the clinging tentacles of trade they had parted with $199.75 in return for three runty little "squealers"! But then was prices have raised everything, so Mr. Norris simply says "pigs is pigs" and puts on the butcher's smile.

the shooting by Mrs. De Saulles said
she didn't remember.

The crowded court room watched
Mrs. De Saulles. Attorney Uterhart
kept his gaze on his client's face while
his brow was wrinkled with nervousness. Weeks asked her is she was happy with De Saulles in South
Bethlehem. She replied that she cared
for him very much. Mrs. De Saulles
said her husband took $29,000 away
from her in 1913. She said he came home late and she was unhappy because he neglected her. Then Weeks
produced a letter written by her to De Saulles in June 1914 while she was
in London. It was addressed to "Dear,
darling Dinky". She asked him not
to be jealous as "she had a good head
on her shoulders" and also picked her
made companions carefully. She said
in her letter that De Saulles needn't
be afraid that someone with run away
with her. She mentioned gambling,
dancing and parties at the Ostend
Safino but she said she didn't gamble.
She described the place and told of
"men who lost their heads." "You
were happy then weren't you?" Weeks
asked. She said she couldn't remember but when pressed for an answer
she wasn't but wanted everyone to
think she was happy. All her letters
flattered De Saulles and begged him
to return to her.

"I thought he was wonderful and
though I could win him back by flattery," Mrs. De Saulles said.

PRESBYTERIAN MUSICAL

The musical service at the Presbyterian church Sunday night given by the church choir was another delightful treat for the large audience who
attended. The program was especially well arranged and was highly
deserving of praise as each number
was rendered in a most admirable
manner.

The trio "Sweet is the Work" by
Mrs. Reeve, Mr. James and Mr. Van
Osten was exceptionally fine and delightful all. The listeners were very enthusiastic in their praise of the beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. Taylor. The piano and organ duet
"Benedictus" by Miss Wrigley, pianist
and Miss Smith organist, was also excellently rendered. Handel's "Largo" sung by the male quartet was especially fine.

GREEN RIVAL TO DARK BLUE

Jade Clothes and Jewelry Also Popular—Black in Demand for Afternoon and Evening Wear.

Midnight blue holds its own.

Black is in demand by those who
want to dress well in the afternoon
and evening, but it does not hold a
high place for street suits or frocks.

Dark green is a serious rival to dark
blue, and the French dressmakers who
exploited it last year are now reaping
a reward because the public is accepting it. A woman must know herself
well, however, before touching any
tone of green. If she is picturesque,
she can wear it in any one of the
shades that are variously known as
jade, Egyptian and lettuce.

The woman who can wear jade
clothes and jewelry has a successful season before her, for many of the
best materials are woven in this allur-
ing but difficult tone, and the oriental
shops are filled with bits of fine jade
made into earrings, hair combs and necklaces. There are fans of peacock feathers with jade sticks and also
buckles of this Chinese quartz for slip-
pers. Soft gold tissue gowns are embroided with jade beads, in the Byzantine fashion.

Red flickers through the color
scheme and bursts upon the vision like
the flame from the artillery at the front. It is against the accepted psychology that the colors of war should
be exploited while war is on.

Mrs. Raymond Williams left this
evening for Camp Lee, Petersburg,
Va., to spend Thanksgiving with her
husband who left for Camp Lee with Clearfield's second contingent.

FROCKS FOR GIRLS

No Difficulty So Long as Fabrics
Hold Out.

Scotch Plaid Worsted, in Blue, Black
and Yellow May Be Combined
With Black Velvet.

Clothing the small girl is a simple
matter these days, so long as Scotch
plaid silks and worsteds and plain
color fabrics to be used in combination therewith hold out.

The little frock shown in the sketch
is made of Scotch plaid worsted, in
blue, black and yellow, combined with black velvet. As will be noted, the skirt is a full kilted affair, and the
bodice and sleeves are of velvet, enriched by plaid collar and cuffs.
The frock fastens in the center back
with small jet or velvet-covered buttons. The collar is open at the back,
of course.

This is one frock which is rather

Knitted Frock of Scotch Plaid.

smarter without the overlay collar of
white washable fabric.

To make this dress for a little girl of
six or eight years, one yard of velvet or
velveteen 36 inches wide and one and a
half yards of plaid fabric the same
width will be required.

The dress might be developed in Scotch plaid gingham and plain-color
chambray of linen, if desired.

One little frock recently noted, de-
signed for a little girl of eight or ten
years, was made of black velvet and
cut on straight princess lines, side but-
toned and trimmed with embroidery
done in bright red and green silk.

Velvet in black and dark shades is
being used extensively in the development of suits, coats and frocks for
young girls this season.

When black velvet frocks are worn
they must be extremely simple. Frequently a bright color touch is given
by the use of wool embroidery, and the
white collar and cuffs are often used.
Sometimes satin is employed, and
again neck and sleeves are finished
with bands of filet lace.

INSPECTED CANTON NO. 56

Gen. G. B. Andrews, of Altoona,
was in Clearfield Saturday evening for the purpose of inspecting Canton No.
56, uniform rank I. O. O. F.

The inspection was held in the local Odd Fellows hall where Captain F. S.
Gilliland and his officers put their men
through the regular P. M. drill in a most creditable manner.

Gen. Andrews gave the men an instructive talk and complimented them
highly on their bearing, appearance,
and the capable manner in which they went through the difficult figures of
the drill.

Following the session all hands ad-
joined to Jordan's cafe and partook
of an oyster supper.

NOTICE

Gen. G. B. Andrews, of Altoona,
was in Clearfield Saturday evening for
the purpose of inspecting Canton No.
56, uniform rank I. O. O. F.

The inspection was held in the local
Odd Fellows hall where Captain F. S.
Gilliland and his officers put their men
through the regular P. M. drill in a most creditable manner.

Gen. Andrews gave the men an instructive talk and complimented them
highly on their bearing, appearance,
and the capable manner in which they
went through the difficult figures of
the drill.

Following the session all hands ad-
joined to Jordan's cafe and partook
of an oyster supper.
